

CERTIFICATION OF THERAPISTS OF THE ZDENKO DOMANČIĆ METHOD OF BIOENERGY THERAPY®

WHAT IS CERTIFICATION?

Certification is a form of control aimed at ensuring fulfilment of minimal requirements for occupational work activity at the basic or specialized level of competence. Certification is a form of support and stimulation of a dynamic development of occupational activity with the purpose of achieving the highest occupational and ethical standards through continued professional training.

Certification for different occupations is gaining more prominence worldwide and more and more countries are turning to this kind of approach in improving the quality of providing different professional services.

There are two general objectives related to any certification procedure:

- assurance of high quality of professional services
- motivation of professional therapists to continue professional development with the purpose of achieving high standards of professional competence.
